Choose One Business Structure

LLC (Limited Liability Company)

Ideal for small businesses and freelancers. Example: A freelance graphic designer who wants personal liability protection.

S-Corp (S Corporation)

Great for businesses that want tax savings. Example: A consulting firm where owners pay themselves a salary and reduce self employment taxes.

C-Corp (C Corporation)

Best for larger companies seeking investors. Example: A tech startup planning to raise venture capital.

Non-Profit Corporation

For charitable organizations. Example: A foundation dedicated to supporting local education initiatives.

Consult with a Business Expert

Define Your Product or Service

Example: If you're starting a boutique fitness studio, decide whether your core offering is group classes or personal training.

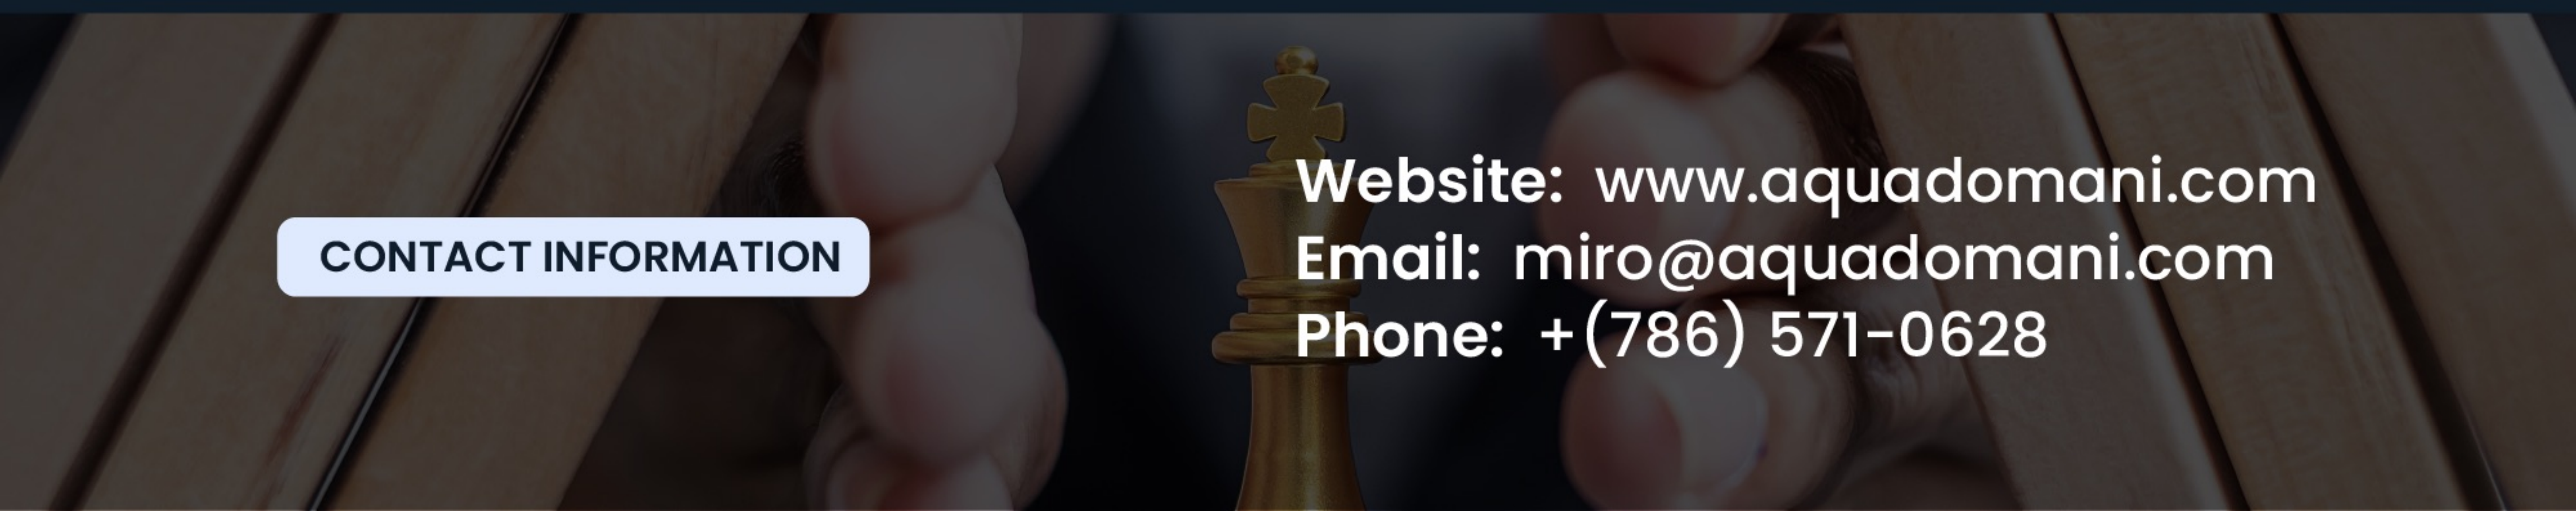

Set Up Key Sales Drivers

Example: Identify your best marketing channels, social media ads, partnerships, or local events and focus on the top 3 that drive sales.

Determine Profitability

Example: If you sell hand made furniture, calculate how many units you need to sell per month to cover costs and make a profit within the first year.
